Lori Hernandez

Lori has had years of experience sewing, serging, designing and teaching. She has many specialties. She began her career more than 25 years ago. Her desire and passion for the craft bolted her into a life long career of sharing her expertise across the United States. She owned her own business for many years. She specialized in custom clothing design, construction, alterations and quilting along with various artistic creative opportunities. Lori enjoys sharing her knowledge and excitement as she presents and teaches. She hopes to inspire and encourage all of her students as they embark upon a new journey or continue to enjoy their journey and further their skills.
